

New face of MD mineral technologies

With more than 60 years experience in Australia's minerals industry, MD mineral technologies joins Roche Mining as part of the Downer EDI merger and integration of capabilities.

Following the successful merger of Downer Group Limited and Evans Deakin Industries Limited the combined organisation is Australia's second largest listed engineering, infrastructure and resource services company with assets of A$1.5 billion, over 11,000 employees and an annual turnover of around A$2.3 billion.

Roche Mining, the mining division of Downer EDI, is one of the country's major providers of mining services, including mine planning, open cut and underground mining, materials handling and processing, explosives manufacture and blasting services, and mineral separation. The company is a strong market leader with state-of-the-art capabilities.

MD mineral technologies brings to Roche its experience in the global market of mineral processing technology. The combined capabilities for MD mineral technologies and Roche adds value and provides clients with a one stop shop solution for all their mining and mineral processing needs.

As part of Roche, MD mineral technologies will continue to build on its solid reputation for providing skillful and cost effective process technology and plant design for the beneficiation of:

- Mineral sands, alluvial gold, tin and tungsten deposits
- Iron, Manganese, Chromite and Ilmenite hard rock ores
- Coarse and fine coal
- Silica/glass sands and industrial mineral assemblies
- Tailings dumps and current tailings flows.

Proven in-house technology and experience enables MD mineral technologies to provide its clients with metallurgical testwork and process solutions using the world's most competitive and advanced beneficiation technology, plant and equipment. The combination of Roche and MD mineral technologies bring breadth and depth of experience that is unmatched.
